She sits on a high horse
Waiting on the world
To bring her the clover
She waits there forever
Nobody knows her name
But the faces she named
Can't put a name to her face
Is she, the gypsy
You see in your dreams?

[Chorus]
From tomorrow she came
She came for today
And from here she goes
Back to her yesterday
She's the night and day

A million years
And she still doesn't know
But the tears on her face
Will eventually show
And she's hurt inside
She's cried and cried
But her tears can't work
She's only looking for her
When will she see?
Is she the gypsy?

[Chorus]

She's hoping for hope
But she'll never know
She's just waiting for Coming back to the shore

[Chorus x2]
