You walk into a crowded room
And all the focus is on you
You flash a glance their way
In the middle of all the fray
Yet you control who you are
Keep shining, you know that you're a star

[Chorus]

You wear cockiness like a Gucci bag
Got thick skin slung across your back
Face adorned with your nerves of steel
You work confidence like hot stiletto heels

Got the diamonds on straight
You walk in your own way
You know just what to say
You run the game you play
Yet you're still down-to-earth
Even when everyone's around your finger

[Chorus]

You wear cockiness like a Gucci bag
Got thick skin slung across your back
Face adorned with your nerves of steel
You work confidence like hot stiletto heels

I wish I could be just like you
And know exactly what to do
Could you teach me please?
I need to learn about me

[Chorus]

You wear cockiness like a Gucci bag
Got thick skin slung across your back
Face adorned with your nerves of steel
You work confidence like hot stiletto heels

[Chorus]

You wear cockiness like a Gucci bag
Got thick skin slung across your back
Face adorned with your nerves of steel
You work confidence like hot stiletto heels
