Here I am again, just like last time, all alone
It's a disguise, no surprise, this haunted home
No one moves, people change, and I move on
Used to be on top, now I'm weak, but once I was strong

People tell me all the time
To let it go from my mind

[Chorus]
The ghosts are all around me
I feel it in the air
But my real question is
Does anyone even care?
I'm running through a forest
Crossbones everywhere
Never gonna end this
Death is in the air

No colors, secret lies, greys and whites
No matter how we pull them, they both will collide
You ignored me, push away, making for another day
Where I can just stand here, playing with my pain

People tell me all the time
To let it go from my mind

[Chorus]

[Strings play on]

People are following me
They all just stop and stare
The undead are awakening
Underneath the layers

And I wave hello, but deep inside
There's a broken soul that's crying
I put on a smile, and try not to fret
What you say isn't what you get

[Chorus x2]
