I've always wanted ones I could never hold down Wild as a stallion, dark as a thunder storm cloud Ones that play love like a game you can't win Here with night then gone like the wind

I keep jumping in just like a child
all it takes is a crooked smile
and I'm, I'm falling again
Oh I never learn from my mistakes
I give my heart until it breaks
I know they're always that way
so why do I keep chasing cowboys

I miss the diamonds cause he's busy kicking up dust i keep gettin' blinded by brown eyes that i shouldn't trust and now here i am again lying awake, alone in the cold empty bed that i made

I keep jumping in just like a child
all it takes is a crooked smile
and Im falling again
Oh, I never learn from my mistakes
I give my heart until it breaks
I know its always that way
so why do I keep chasing cowboys

I could never hold him tight enough Just trying to get that boy to love is like pulling rain drops from a burnin' sun

I keep jumping in like a child
all it takes is a crooked smile
and Im falling again
Oh I never learn from my mistakes
I give my heart until it breaks
I know their always that way
so why do I keep chasing cowboys
i keep chasing cowboys always right away
