There's a moment when you realize that something's changed

All the bits and pieces start to fit, so fab
When nothing that you know will ever be the same Ring a bell, that's my cue, gotta try something new

Gonna shine and make the moment mine
Now my time has arrived
Gonna shine so bright the sun will run and hide
And I'll be the only star that lights the sky

I'm gonna shine, yeah
Listen up, fellas

Now there's nothing in this universe to hold me back, bye cab
The endless night can keep me in the dark
And I just might give my dear old dad a heart attack
But he'll live and he'll see what his girl is meant to be

Gonna shine and leave the past behind
Gonna try to fly so high
Gonna climb and make the prize all mine
Then I'll write my name in letters across the sky

I'm gonna shine and if my present luminescent state is second rate
I'll turn it up a notch past nine and watch the world go blind

Got a diva dazzle that you just can't touch
Like an angel in Armani I'm too fabulous
They'll be lining up for blocks once I bop to the top
With a poochie in my Gucci, I just can't be stopped

I'm gonna shine and make the moment mine
Now my time has arrived
Gonna shine so bright the sun will run and hide
And I'll be the only star that lights the sky
I'm gonna shine
