Don't speak
I can't believe
This is here, happening Our situation isn't ri-ght Get real, who you playing with?
I never thought he'd be like this You were suppose to be there by my side

When you say that you want me I just don't believe it Your always ready to give up but never turn around

But what if i need you baby would you even try to save me or would you find some lame excuse to never be true
What if i said i loved you would you be the one to run to or would you watch me walk away without a fight

Im so sick of worrying watcha gonna quit over anything I could trip and you'd let go like that And everything that we ever were seems to fade but not the hurt Cause you don't know the good things from the bad

When i say that i want you you know that i mean it and in my hour of weakness there's still time to try

But what if i need you baby

to never be true

Everytime i speak you try and stop me cause every little thing i say is wrong you say your noticing but you never see this is who i really am that you can't believe makes me wanna know right now if it's me you'll live without or would you change your mind

What if i need you

But what if i need you baby
or would you find some lame excuse
to never be true
without a

Oh baby, What if i need you
yeah yeah
What if i need, what if i need you?
(what if i need you?)
Oh oh i need you
i need you you you
