Everything in life
Had become all so wonderful
From the moment he came into her life
He was she could ever dream of
On a man that will stand by her side
Happy days and laughter
Smiles through the day
She wished that she'd met him before

Chorus
Cus when she met him
Every sad memory faded away
Like a prophesy fulfilled
She opened her heart to him
Cus she'd been so lonely for too long
That's when she met him

Everyday was filled with happy moments
Like magic where every wish comes true
Cus everything she could ever need
Was always right there in her arms
Happy days and laughter
Smiles through the day
She wished that she'd met him before

Chorus
Cus when she met him
Every sad memory faded away
Like a prophesy fulfilled
She opened her heart to him
Cus she'd been so lonely for too long
That's when she met him

When he left her
Her life turned into a nightmare
Her beautiful world came crashing down
And she wished she'd never met him at all
With the misery in her eyes
All she became is who I am now

I can still hear the words
He screamed down at me

As he walked out and shut the door
Everything he said
Has washed out my brain
I don't even know where my heart beats now

Cus when he left me
All my sad memories faded away
Like a prophesy fulfilled
I opened my heart to him
And when he left me
I felt like I was losing my mind
Like falling off the track
Cus I gave my life to him
But he used my weakness as his strength
And he left me

This is the saddest story
That I ever told
Cus I just can't find my way out
