It's carved in stone, it's written in the stars
Run or Fight, Can't rearrange it,
When the time is right, You just can't change it.

If you've a yellow streak,
There'll be no twist of fate
If you're a stone cold coward
There'll be no twist of fate
'Cos when your time has come
You will accept your fate
Yeah, when your time has come,
You will accept your fate.

You're just flesh and bone, there's nothing you can do
Be a man, stand up and face it
What the hell, might as well embrace it.

If you've a yellow streak,
There'll be no twist of fate
If you're a stone cold coward
There'll be no twist of fate
'Cos when your time has come
You will accept your fate
Yeah, when your time has come,
You will accept your fate.

It may be quick or slow, it's not up to you
Open your eyes, stare at death and spit,
Or close your eyes, Die like a piece of shit.

If you've a yellow streak,
There'll be no twist of fate
If you're a stone cold coward
There'll be no twist of fate
'Cos when your time has come
You will accept your fate
Yeah, when your time has come,
You will accept your fate.
