On a cloudy night
I looked outside the window seeing faces disappear the wheels of time kept turning through endless days and nights I'm hiding my soul from the light

Holding on to the two sides of a coin I'm blinded by lies too late to return Late at night the fire starts to burn I'm a Prisoner of flames will I ever learn

We're falling in and outta love calling our hearts tears from heaven

chorus:
Don't say goodbye
Love is forever and I need you to stay

Don't say goodbye
we're so strong together don't leave me this way

On and on we searched for Fool's Gold putting down the trigger of love Any chance we had is passing by just too late for another try

Lonely hearts lost fires in the night the end of our romance's in sight
