There was a hurricane,
And it came - and it came
And it swept you away.
Where have you gone now?

You fool the world with smoke and with mirrors,
With tricks stuffed up your sleeves,
But you can't fool me,
You can't your just a name,
With nothing to back it up
One of the finest breeds
I've ever seen.

There was an ocean wave
And it came - and it came
And it swept you away
Where have you gone now?
I'll never forget the day,
The day that you were swept away
By the ocean waves
How can I survive?

You fool the world
With smoke and with mirrors
With tricks stuffed up your sleeves
But you can fool me
You can't
You're just a name
With nothing to back it up
One of the finest breeds
I've ever seen

Wait stop
I'll follow you until you disapea
Into the night
