Oh my world is shaking
My future is unclear
After all has fallen
Will I still find you here
Can we make it through the fire
Can we make it through the storm
Will the songs sung in the trenches
Be the sound that leads us home

You know I meant what I said
No height and no depth
Could ever come between us
Or keep us from each other
This is not the end
Of everything we are
So hold on
Just hold on

I will be your shelter
I will be your embrace
You don't have to be afraid
I'll be your hiding place
We can make it through the fire
We can make it through the storm
And in the end we'll be
Stronger than before

Lead by my heart
Assured by my eyes
The sound becomes dissonance
