"Just One Night"

The snow is falling down on the streets
It dressed the town in white colors
I wait for your call or for your knock at my door
But I know that I'll be waiting in vain

Minutes and hours and hours and days
Time is running like sand through my hand
Is it love? What I feel?
Come back again

Just one night
To take this chance to prove my love
Just one night
I'll take you to the edge of heaven
Just one night

Deep in the night my thoughts far away
It's raining, I hear the wind say
"It's love, what you feel
She will come back again!"

The voice of the wind, the call of my heart
I'll try a new start, so I'm calling your number
"Come back again!"

Just one night
To take this chance to prove my love
Just one night
I'll take you to the edge of heaven
Just one night

Just one night
To take this chance to prove my love
Just one night
I'll take you to the edge of heaven

Just one night
To take this chance to prove my love
Just one night
I'll take you to the edge of heaven
Just one night
