So many years I have lived like a feather
The wind was tryin' to be my fate
I was dependent on rain storm and weather
But now I know, it's not too late

Even if I'm just a tiny little wheel on earth
In this clockwork universe

White lights, I can feel the energy
And the spirit of love will arrive
White lights, I believe in what I see
The world of true love is alive

When suns and moons surge and fall every minute
Oh, I can only think of you
Planets explodin' but mine is still turnin'
And now I know what I never knew

Yes, I'm just a tiny little wheel on earth
In this clockwork universe

White lights, I can feel the energy
And the spirit of love will arrive
White lights, I believe in what I see
The world of true love is alive

White lights

White lights, I can feel the energy
And the spirit of love will arrive
White lights, I believe in what I see
The world of true love is alive

White lights, I can feel the energy
And the spirit of mine
Spirit of light
Spirit of love is alive
