You make me believe
You are the one for me it seems
But now, I find it's hard
The way you treated me, it's mean

'Cause time after time I keep changing my mind
And I can't get myself over you

The moment you leave me, the moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit
What's going on? What's going on

Each time you were down
I helped you on your feet but then
Just as soon as you were ready too
You leave me on my own again

'Cause time after time keep changing my mind
And I can't get myself over you

The moment you leave me, the moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit
What's going on? What's going on?

When you lied that you love me
And spoke promises that you couldn't keep
How I tried to believe you when my tears, they just cut so deep
And I can't get myself over you

The moment you leave me, the moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit

The moment you leave me, the moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong

And I don't think that we will ever find a limit

The moment you leave me, the moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
