The skies so blue when I look outside
It's like looking into, your beautiful eyes
And when I close my eyes, for the first time
I wanna see it's true, so baby blue

Any mountain we will climb, together
Any empire we'll conquer (and I know)
Baby, GO!, we'll be fine if you just remember
And you're never ever ever ever let me go
And you're never ever ever ever let me go
And you're never gonna never gonna let me

And as days go by
We will live our lives hand in hand,
And side by side
And as seasons change, I will rearrange my room
To remind me of you

Your summer eyes, they always seem to help me push away
Any bad feelings that I have in the morning when I wake
So much for bad dreams, so much for bad things, so much for being alone
Cause when you're by my side girl, I feel like I am home just singin'

Any mountain we will climb, together
Any empire we'll conquer (and I know)
Baby, GO!, we'll be fine if you just remember
And you're never ever ever gonna let me go
And you're never ever ever gonna let me go
And you're never gonna never gonna let me

And as days go by
We will live our lives hand in hand,
And side by side
And as seasons change, I will rearrange my room
To remind me of you

Do you remember me like I remember you? (yes I do) You left me frozen when you walked into the room (I could not move)

And then you kissed me and I'd slowly melt away (I'd melt away)
You said I love you baby, now there's nothing left to say,
Except I love you too

And as days go by
We will live our lives hand in hand,
And side by side
And as seasons change, I will rearrange my room
To remind me of you

Days go by
We will live out lives hand in hand
And side by side
And as seasons change
I will rearrange my room,
To remind me of you
