Somedays, somedays, somedays just ain't so easyWake up, look around just before your feet hit the groundWhere they make the oil and street, is where you stand and where you sleepBlack and whites along the lights, plain clothes and Miranda RightsAt the right place but in the wrong life, somedays just ain't so easySomedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays) just ain't so easySomedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays), somedays (Somedays)Just ain't so easyIt's not the fault of anyone as we revolve around the sunWe sleep beneath the same sky but we all see it through different eyesSo if you go or if you stay, standin' still if you walk awayIf you bend or if you break somedays just ain't so easySomedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays) just ain't so easySomedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays), somedays (Somedays)Just ain't so easy, they just ain't so easyOh yeahSomeone may have done you right or done you wrong(Nobody say it's so easy, yeah)I don't care for somedaysSomeone may have done you right or done you wrongKept it down from the day you were bornThere's no need to apologize for the riot in your eyesSomedays just ain't so easyHey! Hey!
Hey!Somedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays) just ain't so easySomedays, somedays, somedays (Somedays), somedays (Somedays)Just ain't so easy
