Roll me on your frozen fields
Break my bones to watch them heal
Drown me in your thirsty veins
Where I watch and I wait
And pray for the rain
Curl like smoke
And breathe again
Down your throat
Inside your ribs
And through your spine
And every nerve
Where I watch and I wait
And yield too the herd
And if you don't believe the sun will rise
Stand alone and greet the coming night
And in the last remaining light
Seven moons and seven suns
Heaven waits for those who run
Down your winter and underneath your waves
When you watch and you wait
And pray for the day

And if you don't believe the sun will rise

Stand alone and greet the coming night

And in the last remaining light

And if you don't believe the sun will rise

Stand alone and greet the coming night

And in the last remaining light

Light

Light

Light
