(Steve Barakatt/Ellen Goffin)

A bird flies high in the morning sky, another day to celebrate our love
I kiss your cheek as I watch you sleep and silently I sing a lullaby

It's all about the way you make me feel, there's magic
in your eyes
It's the fire that burns inside of me that makes me
come alive
It's all about the way that we both know, how to turn
love into gold
Together on this play, together on the stage of love and life, here we are

The stars shine bright in the twilight night
It's here I thank the angels up above For giving me, giving you to me and spelling out the recipe of love

It's all about the way you make me feel, there's magic
in your eyes
It's the fire that burns inside of me that makes me
come alive
It's all about the way that we both know, how to turn
love into gold
Together on this play, together on the stage of love and life

Somewhere a dream comes crashing down Another fairytale comes to an end But you and I will never say goodbye, this I swear, this we vow

It's all about the way you make me feel, there's magic
in your eyes
It's the fire that burns inside of me that makes me
come alive
It's all about the way that we both know, how to turn
love into gold

Here we are.
