adaptation anglaise Klaude Furlong

When love lives inside of you
Makes your heart feels like starting anew
With you in my life, nothing else ever matters
You're all I ever need to know

You're all my heart ever desired
Your love is all I've ever dreamed of havin'
Thoughts of you burn me, bring me down to my knees
You fill my life with so much meaning
And make my world a better place to live in
I live for your love, your dream, we'll live forever

With you, I feel like a woman every time
Again and again, with you, all my senses come to life
With you, I've learned to live a better life
With you, with you baby, with you forever

I lose myself in your eyes
How deep can my love go to reach your soul ?
This feeling that grows deep down inside me
Can only unfold your arms

You're all my heart ever desired
Your love is all I've ever dreamed of havin'
Thoughts of you burn me, bring me down to my knees
You fill my life with so much meaning
And make my world a better place to live in
I live for your love, your dream, we'll live forever

With you, I feel like a woman every time
Again and again, with you, all my senses come to life
With you, I've learned to live a better life
With you, with you baby, with you forever

If any of the stars in heaven can bless your love
I would give my life away for a minute in your arms
I have come alive with the touch of your hand

I believe in our love, it will last, for all time

Oh, I feel like a woman every time
Again and again, with you, all my senses come to life
With you, I've learned to live a better life
With you, with you baby, with you forever.
