HIDE AWAY

Writer: Audrey Gordon ©2004, All Rights Reserved

1.

Long time I waited but you never ever came Still I love you; yes I love you just the same Soon I'll be coming; I'll be coming back again
Prepare to meet thy God
Long time I waited
And I'm feeling all your pain
Waited to help you, just to help you through the strain
To give Oh, the former and the latter, latter rain
But I waited just in vain

CHORUS

Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.
Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.

Hide away from the face of the Lord
Up unto the rocks and to the mountains you'll crawl
Cause you didn't heed you didn't answer the call
But on top of you all of the mountains will fall
Because you didn't heed you didn't want to stand tall
Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.
Hide away,
Where you gonna run to, hide away.

Waited to send you, yes to send you through the earth
To tell my people of the way, the new birth
But you reveled on, you reveled on you reveled on in mirth
Prepare to meet thy God

CHORUS

Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.
Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.
Hide away from the wrath of the Lord

Up into the hills and to the mountains you
crawl
Cause you didn't heed you didn't answer at all
But on top of you all of the mountains will fall
Because you didn't heed you didn't
want to stand tall
Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.
Hide away, Where you gonna run to, hide away.

BRIDGE: I've waited to give you sweet rest
To give you all my love and to make you fully blessed
To have you stand tall bow before you all the rest you
didn't hear,
No you didn't hear you didn't fear.

I've waited to give you sweet rest
To give you all my love and to make you fully blessed
To have you stand tall bow before you all the rest you
didn't hear,
No you didn't fear you didn't care.
You didn't want to walk in reverence and fear
You didn't care that by my name only I swear
When I sent my messengers only so you would hear But you turned your back on all the messages they bear

Where, where you gonna run to, tell me where Oh Where, where you gonna run to, tell me where Tell me, where, where you gonna run to, tell me where Where, where you gonna run to

But I'm still waiting to give you sweet rest
To give you all my love and to make you really blessed
To have you stand tall, bow before you all the rest,
please hear

I'm still waiting to give you sweet rest
To give you all my love and to make you fully blessed
To have you stand tall, bow before you all the rest, please hear, still waiting
