I look in the mirror and what do I see?
Reflections of my greatest enemy
With every thing that I hope to be
It seems that adversity starts with me

So what's a girl to do
When all of her hopes and dreams
Seem to fade just like the wind
And she cries to you again and says:

Oh Lord, I need you
I don't know if I'm coming and I don't know if I'm going
But Lord, I need you
So won't you move me out of my way so I can get to you

I know what is willing and what's weak
Sometimes it is better not to speak (em, hush baby)
There are times that I get ahead
And find myself leading when I need to be lead

So what am I to do
When words seem too much or not enough
What will I say
When the rubber meets the road and the going gets tough besides:

Oh Lord, I need you
I don't know if I'm coming and I don't know if I'm going
But Lord, I need you
So won't you move me out of my way so I can get to you

'Round in circles do I go
Tryin'a make my way to your throne
Lord hear my plea
I'm down on bended knee

Oh Lord, I need you
I don't know if I'm coming and I don't know if I'm going
But Lord, I need you
So won't you move me out of my way so I can get to you
