What's so hard to understand, are my words not clear enough

How shall I make a believer of you, I'll light the sky for you all to see

Wrong, wrong

I will bury you underneath the stars, and you all will see me, become something I could never be, I will bury you

You're a fool why would I fight so hard for something that wasn't true, is this all you know is this all you'll be, every single day condescending me

Wrong, wrong

I will bury you underneath the stars, and you all will see
me, become something I could never be, I will bury you

Dig your grave cause I will bury you Don't walk in the room, don't walk in the room, I'll be standing there right behind the door, knife is in my hand, walk up to your back, slit your fucking throat, the end of you

Why don't you die?
