One thing leads to another

And so its always been
They need to be right
And you can give them any job
They can do three things at one time
But if you give them your heart
Its them mess that goes up
And if youre asking for the truth
Well they'll take it but not give it
It seems like forever that i've been tearing apart
Im callin stop coz

Chorus:

One thing leads to another
Before you know it youre in too deep
Until you finally discover
You got no more secrets to keep
Coz little by little, step by step
Youre gonna see how far you can get
Listen to the words of your mother
One thing leads to another

Youre so obvious but you play it so cool
You must think im outta my mind
But i kno just wat youre up to
Coz the day i give up
Is the day i that you drop
And its betta you kno that i leave and let you go
Youll be in it forever
Coz you've been trapped in the part
Who's callin stop?

One thing leads to another
Before you know it youre in too deep
Until you finally discover
You've got no more secrets to keep
Coz little by little, step by step
Youre gonna see how far you can get
Listen to the words of your mother
One thing leads to another

Its always been wats done
Little hope for it to change
But with us its left undone
And its always the same
We fall for the ones that hold us in there again

One thing leads to another
Before you know it youre in too deep
Until you finally discover
You've got no more secrets to keep
Little by little, step by step
You're gonna see how far you can get listen to the words of you're mother
One thing leads to another
