Another war in another time
Another loss for all mankind
Another turn when we're headed straight
Another wrong there's another right
Another tear from another eye
Another child running for his life

They'll bleed until the end
And not think twice about your sin
And we will follow you to your grave

It's time that we need to decide
If we should swallow the pill before we're taken alive
And I choose life cause it's more than our pride
And we'll scream a little
Dream a little

Another sign in another place
Another move that we can't erase
Another turn when we're headed straight

They're breaking their backs just to make it away
The young and the old it's a coming of age
If no one is left there is no one to save

They'll bleed until the end
And not think twice about your sin
And we will follow you to your grave

It's time that we need to decide
If we should swallow the pill before we're taken alive
And I choose life cause it's more than our pride
And we'll scream a little
Dream a little

Heads up there's a fire from above
You know we're taking our chances when push comes to shove
And I choose life because it's all about love
And we'll dream a little Scream a little
Dream a little

When the stars burn out
We'll be lowered down
We'll be home
We'll be home
When the stars burn out
We'll be lowered down
We'll be home
We'll be home
Hey yeah

When the stars burn out
We'll be lowered down
We'll be home
We'll be home
Yeah yeah yeah
Yeah yeah yeah
Yeah yeah yeah
Yeah yeah yeah
