You caught us waiting for the weekend staring at the light, staring at the light.

You're looking at us like we're crazy about to start a fight, about to start a fight.

We must believe in something

We must believe in something.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.

Don't back down now they all need to hear your song
on the radio.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.

Don't back down now they all need to hear your song
on the radio.

You stay behind and wait for something afraid of taking flight afraid of taking flight.

Our situations got you worried we won't come back tonight we won't come back tonight yeah.

We must believe in something

We must believe in something yeah yeah yeah.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.

Don't back down now they all need to hear your song
on the radio.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.

Don't back down now they all need to hear your song.

We've got more than what you're seeing hold us back
we'll keep on dreaming.

Hold us back we'll keep on screaming tonight, yeah
tonight.

Don't back down now they all need you around. Back down now they all need you around. Back out now they all need to hear your song on the radio.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.
Don't back down now they all need to hear your song.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.
Don't back down now they all need to hear your song
on the radio.

Don't back down now they all need you around keep
going keep going.
Don't back down now they all need to hear your song
on the radio.
