You said it'd be for the best in the end so we're done I pack my things and I follow the setting sun. Head down what a long strange trip it's been. (what a long, what a long strange trip it's been)

I saw your face thru the glow of the moon in the sky, I tried to hold on to this moment but it passed me by. If I could speak for you one last time you would say...

Stay another night (stay another night)
Stay another night (just stay another night)

And I, I broke my heart for you so you could understand that we'll both rise and fall we'll learn to love again.
These changes won't come easy it will take some time to loose these feelings... until then, until then I do suggest.
I thought I'd fight for your love like they do on the screen before it happened I was sure it wouldn't happen to me head down what a long strange trip it's been. (what a long, what a long strange trip it's been) I guess now we can be ourselves in the end you'll be the girl that walked away I'll be the monster of men. I know we can do this all again. So stay another night.

Stay another night (stay another night)
Stay another night (just stay another night)

And I, I broke my heart for you so you could understand that we'll both rise and fall we'll learn to love again. These changes won't come easy it will take some time to loose these feelings... until then, until then I do suggest stay another night.

And I, I broke my heart for you so you could understand. These changes won't come easy it will take some time to loose these feelings... until then, until then I do suggest.

And I, I broke my heart for you so you could understand that we'll both rise and fall we'll learn to love again.

These changes won't come easy it will take some time to loose these feelings... until then, until then I do suggest.

Stay another night (stay another night)
Stay another night (just stay another night)
Stay another night (why don't you stay another night)
Stay another night (just stay another night)
