[The Beautiful: ]

Hear me... O valiant sister, reveal to me, this archaic image

Awakened, I find no passage within these arcane illusions

Hath I but found my eternity manifested within me
This mask of shattered divinity do I now wear

Endless black skies surround my freedom The ravens cry out for my undoing, how beautiful their songs are to me Hopelessly, I envision fragile winds sweeping away my spirit

Leaving behind my barren epitaph, taking me to my eternity... my garden

Vanquished foes, fear not my destiny Take this empty shell which is my body
And free my dying brood from endless millennia
One child, one god, one wish, one dream, one heart, one life, one final victory O hear me... I'm in pain
