How did you find out that you
Were going to try to see it through
I know that you were crying for me
I gave up everything to be
The one that you were dying for
Girl, I'm not worth your crying for
I don't know what to say to you
To try to make you see it through

(Find you inside me
My heart is bleeding
Your mind is screaming
I'm still redeeming you)

How did you save me tonight?
How did you seal my heart inside?
Why did you leave me alive
With the feeling that I'm not right?

(I'm worth dying for)

Not now, you're back in sight again
My eyes are pleading for the end
Of all their pain and misery
Can you take it away from me?

How did you save me tonight?
How did you seal my heart inside?
Why did you leave me alive
With the feeling that I'm not right?
