

Autumnal Blood Moon "One Final Dawn"

Your dark hair falls around me as I look into your eyes.
I'll pull your soft warm body to me, for in the morning
we all die.
I feel your warmth my love. Let me hold you for one final dawn.
For when the day come, our bodies will soon be gone.

The end is drawing near my love.
I'll pull you close for one last kiss.
The break of a new day,
Two souls stand on the edge of abyss.

Passion entwined with flames altogether consumed.
The light may take my body but my heart belongs to you.

It's our last night, the sun will soon rise.
I'll hold you tight, under the dawning sky.
I'll burn, It's our last night.
You'll burn I'll hold you tight.
We'll burn set out ashes to flight.

One final dawn.
