[Talking]

Listen, theres a lot of special people come through your life
At times, and Im just willing to talk about mine right now.
If ya'll can bair with me. This is something for you.

Every night Im on my knees
Praying that we would stay
One for years and years
I said one who happened
Willing to and anything
Life has to offer
You're strong
And I can't see myself without you baby

[chorus]

You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality, sugar

You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality

Listen, no Im not a psychic
And I can't see, what the future holds for you and me
But I, hope we can stay like this
I will try my best
Cos what we have, is special
Something that should carry on
For ever and ever and ever
Through all of the stormiest weather
Even through rights and wrongs

Im willing to hold on

[chorus]

You're my maker
My sanity

My everything
My equality, sugar

You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality

I can come and talk to you
When all when my burdens get heavy
We can communicate
When I'm not feeling so well
Cos you love me, my pain will be your pain
My tears will be your tears
You'll stay until I'm ok
This is what I have to say

[chorus]
You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality, sugar

You're the reason for me breathing
You're the reason for this song
You're the truth, you're the light
And nothing can ever replace you in my life

[chorus]
You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality

You're my maker
My sanity
My everything
My equality, sugar
