Run away
I'm living with a hole inside
A Piece of me that I have yet to find
The edge of reason, lies uneven
Turn me off, feel the blood so cold
Like a product that was bought and sold
Asking me for the impossible

I ain't waiting for a miracle
I ain't waiting for the world to change
Under my skin lives the reason
Under my armor I lost it all

No more faith
No savior made of our designs
Fooled me before, I tell ya not this time
Raped my body, lost vision
Lost my mind, I had to let it go

Another day living irrational
Another day inside this dying soul

I ain't waiting for a miracle
I ain't waiting for the world to change
Under my skin lives the reason
Under my armor I lost it all

There's something in your eyes
A part of me that I recognize
I want to let you know
We'd be there if we could and it's alright
You taught me how to feel
It's no wonder I'd do anything
Tell me why'd you have to go
With the worst to come lost are the best I know
Time - seems like we lost it all

Burn it all
Burn it to the fucking ground
Believe the words that I don't want me around
Life revision, indecision
World collision, heads will roll

With nothing left except the pain to show
Mental manic driven overflow
Mental imagery on the floor

I ain't waiting for a miracle
I ain't waiting for the world to change
Under my skin lives the reason
Under my armor I lost it all
