You live your whole life starin' at a wall,
Your mind goes blank sooner now you will fall.

You never learned the things you say to know now, but how,
There seems to be a difference two different kinds of kids,
The one's who go out and the one's who are taught to live,
One groups taught how and the others taught why,

There's no need to tell you, what's in my mind,
But in the game of life I'm doin fine,
No reason to tell you, which way to be,
The streets have opened my eyes to see,

No reason to tell you, what's in my mind,
But in the game of life I'm doin fine,
No reason to tell you, which way to be,
The streets have opened my eyes to see,

Look what's happened now,
What are the reasons why and how,
And don't you think it sounds stupid,
When some one's treated different cause there not the same as me or you?

You live your whole life starin' at a wall,
Your mind goes blank sooner now you will fall.

You never learned the things you say to know now, but
how,
There seems to be a difference two different kinds of
kids,
The one's who go out and the one's who are taught to
live,
One groups taught how and the others taught why,

There's no reason to tell you, what's in my mind,
But in the game of life I'm doin fine,
No reason to tell you, which way to be,
The streets have opened my eyes to see,

No reason to tell you, what's in my mind,
But in the game of life I'm doin fine,
No reason to tell you, which way to be,
The streets have opened my eyes to see.
