Im driving to your house
Its late Sunday, early Monday
Im not sure where we are going, or how we got here
Why are we back here?
But maybe you and me, were exactly what we need
To tide us over?
Im pulling on the reigns
Im pressing on the brakes
When all I see is red
Did you see this coming?
Were quiet when we sleep
There's secrets that I keep
I was always told to pay attention to details
Im sleeping in your bed hours after weve made love
I can only hear your breath and it disrupts what I was just thinking of Im tempted to tell you now, all these things I think about
But I don't want to wake you from dreaming Because maybe you and me, were exactly what we need
To tide us over?
Im pulling on the reigns
Im pressing on the brakes
When all I see is red
Did you see this coming?
Were quiet when we sleep
There's secrets that I keep
I was always told to pay attention to details
Im a disaster waiting
In the shallow water we waded in
Im a hole in your hull
That's dragging
Im dragging you down
So did you pay attention to details?
