Ive been seeing somebody new
And she's nothing like you
But Im not comparing
They tell me that it takes time
To be patient and I'll find
That everything has it's reasons
But I don't buy in
So I guess that I'll keep fighting it?
Im waiting to forget
Im trying to pretend
That Im not missing you again
When you gracefully creep in
You bring back these feelings
But Im not missing you
So you called just to say hi
Im glad you're doing fine
But is this where were at now?
I tell myself that Im all done
And Im fooling everyone
Because they don't know what Im dreaming
And neither do you
And maybe I should keep it that way?
Im waiting to forget
Im trying to pretend
That Im not missing you again
When you gracefully creep in
You bring back these feelings
But Im not missing you
You say were alright
And I'll convince you Im fine
But Im falling apart
At the thought of you and I
Im waiting to forget
