And I curse your world, and I curse your sun...for in your ivory world, I am no one
And I left my soul, where the sleeping shadows lie...and I find my soul where forgotten shadows die So empty here, in my usurperous awakening...so empty here, in this life I am forsaking
The light is burnt and bereaving, upon the shore, grieving..
An ocean black beneath me, my endless sea of evening
Life is burned before me...in an endless sea of eve Ash of darklit serenity...in an endless sea of eve Lies wash over me...in an endless sea of eve Lies watch over me...in an endless sea of eve Veil of atrocity...in an endless sea of eve Hides my face, it hides my heart...in an endless sea of eve
Oblivion deliver me...in an endless sea of eve
To the father of all dark...in an endless sea of eve Falling from the clouds, and crying celestial tears I will come to scorn them all...those who manifest my spirit
And I curse your world, and I curse your sun...for in your ivory world, I am no one
And I found my soul where the sleeping shadows lie...and now I leave my soul in hopes that it will die...
