I wake up in the morning put my dog tag on my chest
Hung over from the night before barely got some rest
Throw on my shoes now um ready to hit the door
But if I'm gonna go out then what is instore

My mom sitting on the couch and she giving me a look
Knowing I should be in school memorizing a book
And I don't even have a job to begin
But ready to hit the streets out there and sin

Mom reaching to her peak and I'm playing me out
Knowing nothing in them streets that's gone help me no doubt
She ready to give in and kick me out
Cause I aint did my best to make her proud

Life passing me by cause um moving to slow
Need to drop certain people in order to go
Up to the next level cause success if my dream
But I'm falling down into hopeless streams

I keep seeing if they hiring every once in a while
But we suffering a depression so I keep lucking out
I need to do something life passing me by
No need to sit down and break down and cry

I need to do something life passing me by
And um ready for my new car and new raise high
Need a nice house with palms reaching the sky
I need to do something life passing me by

Everybody got dreams that's the way life go
If you put forth the effort then you get something ya know
Don't get caught out there with lames in the game
Cause they carry downfall and on you wish the same

I need to do something life passing me by
No need to break down and sit and pout why
Need a record deal break so it's time to try
Send your music to L.A then hopefully get signed

I need to make a move time aint stopping for me
Need a nice job something that I can succeed
I need to make a move um telling you why
No more sitting still life passing me by

Now young people uma speak so yall listen
Don't go around friends and don't know who the realest
Yall need to learn goals and what's your motive in life
Staying away from troubles or you pay the price

Dis avias on the mic nothing more I can say
Need a job money car and somewhere to stay
I need to do right cause it's no need to lie
Sitting still at home life passing me by

No need to sit down and break down and cry
Mama looking really worried then she give me a sigh
I need to do something life passing me by
No need to sit still no luck wondering why

I need to do something life passing me by

Tick tick tick tock (14x's)
