Naked and bruised within
Drain the bottle
That's left on the table tonight
Opening broken skin
Now it's over and everything is all right

Watch you come back around
Watch you let it fall and replace this all
When you come back around
Won't you let it fall and go numb
Like the back of my hand

What's it for, give me more
Were they ever there,
Close your eyes and stare
Feeling dies, paralyze
Now it's over and everything is all right

Watch you come back around
Watch you let it fall and replace this all
When you come back around
You're never coming
Well you'll never go numb
