See I got a little bit of a problem Back where I come from, Feels Like five people in my population and no one ever leaves there I'm gonna be the first one I guess my papa always told me the way it wasn't (or was)
and my mama thinks she knows me
I know she doesn't (ah ah ah)

[Chorus]

But I got my head set on California I'll fly away tomorrow, won't even warn ya
and I'll send a big postcard, just to piss you off
I got my head set on California
Here I come

See, I got what you would call an obsession
It feels like I think sane
The limits of a small town Frustrating my brain Might leave some roots there but my head's on the next plane
'Cause my Daddy always told me the way it was
And my mama thinks she knows me,

I know she doesn't
(ah ah ah)

[Chorus]

I got my head set on California
And I'll fly away tomorrow, won't even warn ya
and I'll send a big postcard, just to piss you off
I got my head set on California

Here I come

Papa always tells me the way it was
and my mama thinks she knows me,
I know she doesn't
(ah ah ah)

But I got my head set on New York City I'll fly away tomorrow, won't even miss me and I'll get a big boyfriend, just to piss you off

[Chorus]

I got my head set on California
I'll fly away tomorrow, won't even warn ya
and I'll send a big post card, just to piss you off
I got my head set on California

Here I come....Here I come
