Sometimes I sit on the back of the old pickup
Or on the steps of the creaky porch
Sometimes I sit there and think of my life
How it could have been
How it should have been
How I let it flush down the toilet

Sometimes I think about how I have not succeeded in love
For I loved those who did not love me
Like 22 year old Deryck
And 24 year old Benji
Who was I kidding..
Did they really like me?

[bridge]And now there's you!
Always turning up around every corner
Can't you see I'm trying to hide from falling in love
So dont even get me started
Go away
Go away
If you would hate to see me cry
Then go away
I hate the way you just keep coming here..
Trying to trick me into another entangled web of love
Deep inside you did not love me
It was all superficial
I know you would hate to see me,
Avril Lavigne
SCREAM!!
So then just go away.
I hate your face

[chorus] : I hate your face
I hate your warm smile
I hate your deep eyes
I won't settle for less than perfect
After the heartbreaks I've been through
I hate your face..

I remember

On a dark and eerie day
I needed someone to hold me
Someone to calm my fears.
Where were you then?
At that very moment
I realized my fears werent of the weather
But of you
I realized I was afraid
Of your face..
And thats one of the many reasons why
I HATE YOUR FACE!!

Sometimes I get scared
Of what life may bring
Nobody usually comes to me
I'm all alone
Makes me want to scream
Cause well, ya know
I'm AVRIL LAVIGNE
And every day
I am all alone
With no friend except my shadow
