It's a forgone conclusion, your love's an illusion and the picture is starting to fade boy let's be honest, when it comes to your promise it's just a lot of empty words you say and the future's only gonna be more of the same you've only got yourself to blame

[Chorus]

Tomorrow you didn't, yesterday you won't 'cause I know everything you say you gonna do you don't that's a given, it doesn't matter anyway hey, I know what love wasn't, I know what love isn't so when you say you're gonna change you gotta be kidding
tomorrow you didn't, hey hey, I'm outta here today I used to believe in, all your romantic dreaming but it really ain't that cute anymore 'cause my time's so precious so I wish you the best with whatever it is you're looking for baby this is all for your own good, I'm leaving cause I know you never would

[Chorus]

I don't need a crystalball to see it all my dear, it doesn't matter what you say, it always turns out the same way your predictions are fiction and it's tragically clear

[Guitar solo]

[Chorus]

(dadada, yea)
