I just need your touch, I just need your honey
I just need your sweet celebration of love, dedication and trust

I just need your lust, I just need your company
I just need to feel the sensation that's making me want you so much

I just need your lips to feel,
Come medicate me with your sex appeal,
I'm tired from all this talking
What would you say if I invited you to come lay down beside me?
I'll lie just to keep you here
And babe it's chemistry I'm telling you, just listen to our hearts beat

It's music to my ears

I just need your breath to hear,
Let's leave this town behind let's disappear
I'm tired from all this talking
beside me?
I'll lie just to keep you here
And babe it's chemistry I'm telling you, just listen to our hearts beat
It's music to my ears

I just need to feel, to feel, to feel
beside me?
What would you say?
