I've got a feeling that your holding out on me
And you can't see everyone but you see straight through me
And I tried my heart out just to keep you
To keep you, happy

Well I don't believe her
She's a deceiver and she lies about everything
I'd keep my distance if you'd ask me, if you'd beg

Please keep your distance
Your body's fucking with my head

I figure you will never love me the way that I love you
And I knew this from the moment our
Clothes came off in your best friends room

So let's go
So let's go

Everyone is dying to go
And it's not going that kills me
It's what there all in for
And if they knew they would gladly stay home
And realize their better off even if their alone

I figure you will never love me the way that I love you
Ad I knew this from the moment our
Clothes came off in your best friends room

So let's go
So let's go

And were only apart as much as air can withstand
Without you breaking inside of my hand
And were only apart as much as we both need
So much for you ever letting me be

So let's go
So let's go

I figure you will never love me the way that I love you
And I knew this from the moment our
Clothes came off in your best friends room

So let's go
So let's go
