It takes more than you think just to act like feelings
Or plan of attack
There's no sense to make a move
When you don't want to see the picture through

The body gets cold starts to shiver.
The waters here can seem so blue
Sirens sing
COME ON THROUGH
But you'll freeze too soon

You'll never care
You can follow that path
You'll never care
It won't take you anywhere
You'll never care
You'll just turn back
I know that you'll never care
You think you've got it planned out
You never mean what you say
