"Fences"

That's not me, it took a while now it's clear to see
The thought lingered in my head,
It coloured everything
And it all turned blue instead
There you are coming out of a jar
The flowers look prettier
But at the same time
They become weaker

Chorus

If you could jump my fences
Breakthrough my defences
Feel at home when you're on your own

Never worry till trouble stands right in front of me
That's not very profound
But it's the only way, that I've ever found

Chorus

If you could jump my fences
Forget all the past offences
See the grass growing

Watch the flowers blossoming

Instrumental

Chorus
