You must understand I'd take your place in a heartbeat
You can't comprehend what watching you does to me
I can't comprehend the kinds of feeling inside of me
You must understand that this is all so new to me

Please know I love you and I miss you anyway
I'm coming to grips with what you deal with everyday
You're always on my mind

I can't seem to find my own sense of disregard
Lord knows I'm hurting for you
I feel so benign not having control of this
But I'm here through your malignancy

Please know I love you and I miss you anyway
I'm coming to grips with what you deal with everyday
You're always on my mind

Please know I love you and I miss you every way
I'm coming to grips with what you deal with everyday
Everyday

Please know I love you and I miss you every way
I'm coming to grips with what you deal with everyday
You're always on my mind
