You've been having deep conversations with yourself
You can't hear your heaven cause you're feeling like hell
Reach out to me, I'll set you straight, and make you well What's it gonna take Ain't no hero role I am trying to achieve
Listen to yourself when you're trying to be mean
Ain't no ego taking my man away from me What have I done, thought I was the one, now you're second guessing... but I need less than what you think I need, I just want what used to be

If you ask me to leave, I'll say no
Cause I'd be nearly out the front door
Then you'd call, you'd say
You never want me to go
Cause honey, I just know you better

Is it really so hard to smile when you are stressed
You don't have to say it, I know the answer's yes
So you're acting like I'm some rude unwanted guest Don't get defensive, this is for your good, I really wish you would see that...
I need less than what you think I need, I'll take what you
used to be

If you ask me to leave, I'll say no
Cause I'd be nearly out the front door
Then you'd call, you'd say
You never want me to go
Cause honey, I just know you better

Bridge...

I really wish that you would see that...
I need less than what you think I need,
I'll take what you used to be

If you ask me to leave, I'll say no
Cause I'd be nearly out the front door
Then you'd call, you'd say you never want me to go

Cause honey, I just know you better
If you ask me to leave, I'll say no
Cause I'd be nearly out the front door
Then you'd call, you'd say you never want me to go
Cause honey, I just know,
I know you better
