"Sometimes"

He knows that i love him afterall i even love him better and much more than before if life was a letter we would be in capital and the words around us will appear so very small like they don't count at all sometimes we have to hurt each other sometimes we have leave sometimes we have to date another to realise we are in love

I know that he loves me afterall he even loves me better so much more than before if life was a tree then we would be its fruit and we will spread our seeds to create something new sometime we have to hurt each other

to realise

to realise we are in love
