ENGLISH translation:

Having lost my face
because of these times,
I've lived all these years

clinging to my own existence.

Now, let's stand up together.
Fight to win yourself.

No matter how far apart we are,
we're still under the same sky.
Don't forget that we're both
travelling to the place
we once dreamed of.

Light and shadow are really the same thing.
If you close your eyes,
you can see them on your own.

Both the sadness in happiness,
and the hope at the end of pain
No matter how far apart we are,
we're always together.
Remember that even when you feel
crushed by the weight of the world,
there's someone out there who loves you.

Things aren't random;
Maybe everything is inevitable.

No matter how far apart we are,
we're still under the same sky.
Don't forget that we're both
travelling to the place
we once dreamed of.
