if i were a barbarian and you were a lady would you marry me anyway would you be my baby

if a thinker were my trade would you still find me repeating the faults i made following behind me

save my love for loneliness
save my love for sorrow
i've given you my memories
give me your tomorrow

if i were a heartbreaker and my songs still resounding would you miss my being there would you miss my shining and if i worked in spite of all would you still love me the answer is baby no i wouldn't it's nice to see you below me
