Please don't call me anymore
I can't open up that door 'cause it hurts too bad my heart still won't, didn't soar it needs time to heal and each time come around it's gonna open again all is fair in love and war I'm not strong enough to keep coming back for more so we live and so we learn thanks for teaching i best believe it before i wind up dead

oh how I wish that i could just get back piece of my heart I gave to you oh yes I'll admit that I'm still a bit mad oh well that's just the way love goes

I hope you don't misunderstand you deserve a real good man lets just hope he's strong 'cause you've been dealt a real good hand and then knocked hard so have enough hearts to play your silly games

a piece of heart I gave to you
oh yes I'll admit that I'm still a bit mad

fool me once shame on you fool me twice and I'm the fool now I see I moved too fast wishing I could take it back it's too late for that but I learned from my mistake I'll never make that mistake again
